Company Folders Opens New Silk Folder Division

USA, Michigan, Keego Harbor, April 3, 2009

Company Folders Inc, the largest source for folder printing services online, has expanded by opening a new division offering silk laminated products at www.SilkFolders.com. The move has positioned the company as a global leader in the industry by allowing them to service a whole new branch of prospective clients.

To mark the event, SilkFolders.com is offering 250 free silk laminated business cards with every folder purchase until May 31, 2009.

Silk and crystal laminated products have long been some of the most expensive options for businesses looking to take their marketing initiatives over the top with luxurious printing materials. Until now, many simply could not afford to print top of the line presentation folders because the costs were too high for the average consumer. "We noticed a need of business owners that was not being met, and acted upon it," said Vladimir Gendelman, CEO of Company Folders Inc. His new division currently offers the most affordable rates for silk and crystal laminated products that include business cards, brochures, pocket folders, and postcards.
